#Personal Projects

Recruiting System/Web Application

↳ This is a job searching website which provides an interface for job seekers to quickly skim through jobs and apply for those they are interested in. Employers can then look through all those that applied for their listing and begin invite users to initiate in communication.

↳ Implemented by using HTML/CSS/JavaScript and Django.

DigiLetter/Mobile Application

↳ This project was completed within the university and my client from Gogigia Pty Ltd has suggested that there is much needed room for improvement where paper-based communication can be replaced with a digitised form of communication.

↳ My attempt to produce a solution to this problem is by developing a mobile application which simplifies communication between school administrators, teachers and parents simply by replacing physical forms of letters with digitised letters.

↳ Implemented by using React Native, PHP and MySQL.

Bike Share Analysis/Data Analysis Report

↳ With the increasing number of bike hire companies in Sydney, this report was written to help the companies to determine specific factors that could potentially affect bike rental demand.

↳ The goal of this project is to make a prediction on bike rental demand under various circumstances based on relevant dataset and statistical models.

↳ Analysed by using Ipython and Jupyter Notebook.
